GMAT Entrance Exam: A Complete Guide!

In this blog, we are going to talk about one of the top entrance exams in the country i.e. the GMAT.

What is it?

The Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) is a computer based test that evaluates an individual's quantitative, analytical, verbal and reading abilities for being selected into a graduate management program, e.g. MBA. It happens to be a registered trademark of the Graduate Management Admission Council (GMAC). More than 5,900 programs offered by more than 2,100 universities and institutions utilize the GMAT exam as a part of the selection criteria for their courses. Business colleges utilize the test as a criteria for admission to an extensive variety of graduate management programmes, including MBA, Master of Finance programs and Master of Accountancy.

Entrance exam format:

The GMAT entrance exam is held in two formats namely paper-based and computer-based. In India, just the computer-based format is present.

Knowing the exam format would help you in your entrance exam preparation.

Eligibility criteria:

There is no particular qualification criteria for the GMAT exam. Be that as it may, different colleges/universities which acknowledge GMAT scores have their own particular criteria for admission.

Scores:

GMAT's total score ranges from 200 – 800. The aggregate score depends on the verbal and quantitative scores. The Analytical Writing Assessment score and the Integrated Reasoning scores are not considered while computing the total score.

In the event that you don't complete in the allocated time, your scores will be calculated in view of the number of questions answered so long as you chipped away at each section. Your score will diminish significantly with each unanswered question.

Exam schedule:

One can sit for the GMAT exam once in 31 days. This consists of test attempts in which the score was cancelled by the student.
