San Francisco (MarketWatch) - Standard & Poor's said Thursday night that it is changing the makeup of its S&P 500 and Midcap 400 after the close of trading on November 9. Fidelity National Information Services Inc. FIS, --2.05%, a payment service provider, will replace the Louisiana-Pacific Corp. LPX, +2.02%, a building products manufacturer, in the S&P 500. Louisiana Pacific will take the national location of information services on the Midcap 400. Fidelity National Information Services is acquiring loyalty from National Financial Inc. FNF, +0.72%, a provider of insurance claims management services, in a deal expected to close on November 9, pending final approvals. Nuveen Investments Inc. Inc. an investment manager, will replace Fidelity National Financial on the Midcap 400. S&P also © m said Intevac Inc. IVAC, + 1.18%, an equipment provider for manufacturers of hard disk drive components, will replace Wolverine Tube Inc. WLV WLV at the S&P Smallcap 600 after the close of trading on Monday. On Thursday, nearby, Wolverine, producer of tubular copper products, ranked 600th in the index with a market capitalization of about $19.6 million. Most 17-inch notebooks focus on gaming or multi-world, but for those who want a full notebook with a large screen, the P-171X gateway © a good choice. The system sports a high-resolution 17-inch screen and offers plenty of storage for your photos, photos and videos. You can get a comparable performance of large screen machines that cost less than $900, but for the student or individual looking for more stylish and larger features like a digital print reader, Bluetooth and HDMI - this is © good value at $1,100. Large But Stylishan Update for the Gateway's P@s, the 14.0 x 10.0 x 1.1 inch P-171x won't fit in a backpack, but at 8.6 pounds - Pounds with the AC adapter - this desktop replacement is light enough to pass from room to the room. Gateway P of Gateway offers a bright black laminated coating similar to Print finish. The Ridgeview Point Pattern of the Sports Gateway system, which © durable and without scratches but prone to spots. We'd choose the design over the bright orange P-171XL FX accents any day. A normal size keyboard with a keyboard in it © 10-key rich proved to be comfortable for long typing. The big system touchpad was responsive and includes an integrated scroll bar for long web page digitisation. An important complaint: the digital printing reader © placed between the mouse buttons, and any error in the touchpad caused the digital printing software to be launched. We prefer to use an external mouse, which pairs easily with the Bluetooth 2.0 integrated P-171X connection. Ec and Quality of Audio 17-inch, bright and panoramic screen, provides many imagery and © perfect for multitasking and looking at windows side by side. A good resolution for your $1,100 price tag, the 14x 900 pixels LCD offered bright colors and wide-angle angle angles. We saw some flashes and reflections in broader angles, but seeing Superbad on DVD while lying in bed was not a problem. Seeing a clip of high definition of the Amazon rainforest was impressive: the tree tops were extremely detailed, and the blue had a crystalline look. Above the keyboard are filter buttons brushed and an elegant strip of volume control sensitive to the touch that allows you to quickly lift and lower the audio from the notebook with the touch of a finger. The speakers go © measures, which are along media controls, have produced high and well-defined audio; with the volume increased, we had no problem listening to Panic on another room. Above the screen is a 1.3 megapixel webcam that captured light-looking photographs, but a Skype video call provided a rather slow and somewhat slow video. Its neighboring microphone supplied audiences to our interlocutors. Adequate performance A 1.66-GHz Intel Core 2 Duo T5450 processor and 3GB RAM (expandable up to © 4GB) They make P-171X a decent performance, although we've been a bit When we compare this US$1,100 system with Satan © US$799 Toshiba L355D-S7809, which offers different components (a faster CPU but less RAM and a slower hard disk), but © Prime versus P-171x. The MobileMark 2007 score of the system was lower than the mother © 151 day for a desktop replacement and only one hair above the score of L355D 111. The US$862 Acer Aspire 7520-5115 has turned into a 106 score. Nonsenseless, we find the abutment P-171X Capacity of productivity tasks. He dealt with multitasking only well; Watching a DVD while browsing Firefox and Skype's execution did not diminish the system enough to affect reproduction. But as with the Toshiba unit, initializing the system was slow to two minutes and eight seconds. The 5,400 rpm, 250GB hard drive combined with an eSATA port for an external unit should be sufficient to maintain your music and wine. Because in its integrated Intel GMA 950 graphics, the P-171X marked a low 1,391 in Dmark03 tests N o © good enough for games, but according to other systems using integrated grains. The inferior Tushib system managed an amazing 1,425. Good resistance to what the P-171x lacks in 3D performance, it is composed in the length of the battery (not that you are moving much); Rarely do we find ourselves reaching Cord power, since the system lasted three hours and 24 minutes with Wi-Fi in 3:30 with no wire off. This is © an area where the gateway stands out over the L355D-S7809 of Toshiba, which managed only two hours of battery duration. The P-171x 802.11a/b/g connection was slightly below our mother's. © days, closing data in 14.5 mbps to 15.5 mbps to 15.5 m Our access point and 11,6 Mbps to 50 bread © Yeah. Web pages carried quickly and transmitting trapped development episodes through © Windows Media Player's TV service played without any pauses in audio or video. Software and Support The P-171X comes first ©- installed with Helpful programs, including spare backup software, a Google working a rea, the 60-Judgment of Microsoft Office 2007 Day and Norton Internet Security. US bothered a lot for the promotions of AOL and Napster. Gateway covers the system with a limited warranty of a year and 24/7, free technical support. Gateway P-171X VerdictFor $ 1,100, the Gateway P-171x is an accessible and elegant desktop replacement. You get a big and nominated screen, lots of storage and bells and whistles that you simply will not find for a big one. It is not exactly burning, but if you need a notebook for domestic and lightweight use, the gateway p-171x is definitely worth taking a look. to look.
