In Sims Freeplay you can have less points for Lifestyle (LP) and Simoleons. Both of these currencies are needed for some of the best items in the game, but you get what you need. If you want to trick a system, there are ways to get huge amount of LP or Simoleons on iOS and Android. If you'd rather stick to the rules, there are plenty of ways to maximize the amount of LP and simoleons you earn. The reading procedure is below: 1. Download the SIM inspired SIM card. Get more simoleons in performing tasks. You can inspire your Sims by meeting their needs. To see the SIM needs, select them and look at the stripes. When the SIM card is hungry, use a refrigerator to eat. If the SIM card is not enough, take a break from watching TV or playing computer games. If your sims' social needs are low, try giving the dog a voice, calling other sims, or meeting them in person. You can quickly and easily increase the energy on the SIM card by drinking espresso. In fact, you don't have to sleep if you use it all the time! When interacting with other "being fun" Sims, he usually sets the bar to the max. You can buy cupcakes for LP to inspire your Sims, or you can buy a cocktail in the night club for Simoleons. 2. Furnace crafting and selling, buying and selling baked goodies. Start by baking cookies or pancakes and if you get your baking skills really high you can bake a chocolate cake! It takes a lot of time and patience to make a lot of money this way, but it can still be worth it and it adds money to your lifestyle. 3. Use Sim's dog to dig up money and lives. After your dog dug up the hit points, give him praise knowing that he gets praise for earning his hit points. This means more rewards for you later. For 2LP you can also buy a bone for your dog. It speeds up Simoleons and LP.

Your cat or dog are more expensive, they quickly collect simoleonso. 4. If your dog doesn't have a kick/jump sign, invite a toddler to play or an adult to praise him. Do this twice and he should run or slowly back away. It usually gives you something, and by repeating this process you can get even more. 4. Go to work and earn money If your Sims go to work, earn money and stay. Also, if you go to work regularly, you'll get a promotion that will earn you more Simoleons and XP after a day's work. Regular work will also help you achieve many goals in game 5. Growing vegetables When you grow vegetables, you will earn more money, but it depends on what you have grown. At night, when you sleep, let your Sims tend to the garden (anyone not at work or busy). If you farm 7 or 8 hours a night, you'll wake up with loads of simoleons and experience. Make sure they are inspired because they will earn 1.5 times the amount of simoleons. You should try sowing pepper seeds because pepper seeds are free and only need 30 seconds to sprout and be ready for sale! When they are ready, you can sell them for a few simoleons. You can allocate a piece of land in your city for gardening. Place at least one garden on each Sim's lot in your city.

Inspire all or most of your Sims at once and send them to the planting field 6. Work on skills and hobbies. Look in the upper left corner of the city map and buy a community center. Take up hobbies like fashion design, ghost hunting and figure skating. These are all hobbies that give you rewards and a big reward when you complete their collections.

Participate in the Contest Hub You can earn extra Lifestyle Points or XP by participating in the Contest Hub (added with the Supernatural update). You can compete between all active hobbies: ballet, karate or ghost hunting. You can choose a specific simulation to compete for the next 12 hours. You will have to improve your skills to win. A place that in turn leads to larger rewards. 8. Double the item if you bake something that takes a long time and costs money, help you get two ovens. Do not buy expensive unless you are too rich because you can't cook with it faster. 9. Drive along and earn money. If you ride along, you can earn money and life. A short click on the music notes brings you bonus money. Sometimes you are lucky enough to get LP. 10. Clear excretions, if you don't let Sims go to the toilet, soak your pants. If you delete it, it gives you points. When you shake the device, the Sims will be similarly sick and you have to hand over. Those who tidy up the vomit can score. If you do this too often, your device can freeze, so go around with it. 11. Save Simoleon and LP You have to be smart and active what you buy. You should not waste your money for something you won't use. As in real life, this habit is the key to a successful household.

Save elements that you can reuse. After the baby was born, you have to add the crib to your inventory. Other couples can use it and save money so that you don't have to buy a new one. Get ready for a rainy day. You should save your LP because some of your quests require this.

After completing the task you will collect some. You don't want to get stuck because you have spent all your LP for something that you don't really need! Be careful when you spend real money. You should not waste any real money for Simoleons and LPs. If you are patient, you can earn a lot and spend real money, which can become a habit. 12. Look at advertising videos, go to the purple shopping cart and tap on "Free" at the top left. He will bring short shows or films and you will receive an LP when you look at them. It doesn't bring much money, but the videos change regularly and keep the LP going. 13. Participation in social media will be special offers and Sims Freeplay Facebook page. If you like a Facebook page, you will receive a notification every time you have a new event. In this way you can get Simolesche, LP and many other objects. SABLE 14 salts and earn money when you get to your sims freeplay level earn more lifestyle and money. This can happen when you have a great relationship with the SIM (like a SIM partner or best friend) as you earn turning points or do things that take a lot of your time. As they get to the level you can build home, commercial activities and works that increase the value of your land and earn more money. You should do things that take a long time to complete. Thanks to this, you will get a lot of experience points that will help you get the level. The highest level guarantees a higher bod value with money and eventually lifestyle points. 15. Complete the objectives for Sims Freeplay There are several objectives that cover almost all aspects of the game. This includes getting a job in your sim sim address, fulfilling the activities, collecting taxes and much more. As you complete the objectives, you can earn money, XP, and Lifestyle points. The goals change regularly. So complete as much as you can. 16. Increase land value and earn more LP LP is your city's value as you get more Lifestyle points. Increase the value of your land by building more houses, commercial activities and works. Buying expensive furniture and other items also increases the value of land for that property. Important suggestions for Sims who complete a long task in their sleep are just as healthy when awake. If you leave the character without doing anything at night, his stats will decrease significantly in the morning. Buy a lot of free things and then sell them in the next update. This allows you to earn a lot of money. Make sure you're not selling a lot of items. This can decrease your city's points. Remember that your SIM does a lot of fashion design. turns on the lightFor extra Simoleys and XP. Give your Sims something to do and check your town often. In order to quickly improve multiple relationships, you should have as many Sims as possible that are not best friends or married. Go to a club and dance. It's easier than doing one by one. With furniture with a higher star rating, you can complete classes faster. Important Warnings: If you are hunting, fishing, manufacturing and collecting medals at the swimming center, do not use your lucky shooter! It costs 3 lifestyle points and may not even get a new spirit/fish/design/medal. Don't let your Sim become unemployed. Go to work on time with your needs met and finally you will be promoted to earn more Simoleon. If you sell items, you get 10% of what you paid and reduce the cost of your city. Don't sell things; Put them in your inventory because you never know when you need it. Don't waste your time on "Hoo Hoo"; it only offers the same experience as dancing. Just select the "Be Romantic" button. Don't torture your Sims! When you go to bed, put all sims (unless you're working) into sleep mode to keep you fresh in the morning.
